

VIDEO PROFILES

In today's business environment first impressions are more important than ever. Unfortunately, opportunities to make a first impression are becoming harder and harder to come by

Creating a video profile can give you an edge, it will also help you make an impression before you get called in for a face-to-face meeting or interview.

An effective profile will showcase your personality, highlight your achievements, define and enhance your overall persona.

Depending on your needs your profile can be tailored toward potential employers, detailing a business or just as a bio.

Corsair Productions is offering on-site production of video profiles at your place of business

We will . . .

- Set up a temporary video studio including professional lighting, sound recording and teleprompter.
- Assist with script development
- Record 3 hi definition takes (allowing 1 hour per session).
- Edit finished piece within 2 weeks of production.
